Unwary Bite at a Proposition to Throttle the Trusts.

BETTER BUY HARDWARE AT HOME!

Somebody once said that a sucker was born every minute, but it looks like he'had nuderstated the case; for in this age of daily newspapers and schoolhouses it is surprising what a vast number of people there are always ready to "bite" at any bait that is thrown them.

With the past few weeks Mr. Slick Article has been contring Mason and adjoining counties, representing the immense wholesale hardware house of Rairow Brothers of Chicago. His especial "mutton" was blackmithe and country shop-keepers, and to these he sang a strea song, depicting, the horrors of the "Trust," telling how it robbed the poor farmer and laboring man, until his listener was ready to shed lears of joy and to shower codies of ducate upon the noble young man who was devoting his energies to down the Octopas.

Having worked his subject up to the proper tension, Mr. S. Article produced his bill of fare.
